

All Students Are Motivated–
Just wait for the Bell!
18 Keys to Redirecting Students' Motivation

Contents

Foreword	1
Acknowledgements	2
Introduction	3
Understanding Behavior	4
A Framework for Motivation: Self-determination Theory	8
What is Motivation?	12
Seeing Motivation through a Racial Lens	14
Book Format	17
Chapter 1	19
First Key: Arouse an eager want	20
Chapter 2	27
Second Key: Show the value and importance of the lesson, topic, task	29
Third Key: Show the correlation between effort and outcome	36
Fourth Key: Remind students that they have or will have the ability to achieve	40
Fifth Key: Remind students of the positive reward	43
Chapter 3	45
Sixth key: Have high expectations of success	48
Seventh Key: Create situations in which students can gain success/mastery	52
Eighth Key: Model Successful Achievement	56
Ninth Key: Reduce stress	59
Chapter 4	66
Tenth Key: Provide Recognition and/or praise	68
Eleventh Key: Give Constructive Feedback	72
Chapter 5	75
Twelfth Key: Promote goal setting	77
Thirteenth Key: Teach goal setting	81

Chapter 6	83
Fourteenth Key: Emphasize effort	84
Fifteenth Key: Create hope	88
Sixteenth Key: Show Respect	93
Seventeenth Key: Demonstrate care	97
Eighteenth Key: Love what you do	101
Conclusion	103
Appendix A—18 Keys to Redirecting Student Motivation	104
Appendix B—Over 90 Suggestions for Redirecting Students' Motivation	105
Recommended Reading (alphabetical listing by title)	108
References	109
List of Figures	114